Sun shine sweet only 17
Year after year the high school queen
Daddy's little girl is gone you see
Looking for the perfect life the American dream

And those LA lights shine bright you see
And the streets are paved with should have beads
And your perfect life is full of lovely screens
And daddy's little girl is just another Hollywood B

Tell her she's just what they need, she's this year's face
Step inside undress and take your place
And take your line to numb the pain
Maybe tomorrow will be a perfect day

And those LA lights shine bright you see
And the streets are paved with should have beads
And your perfect life is full of lovely screen
And daddy's little girl is just another Hollywood B

Uh is just another Hollywood B

Cos it's a cruel world when you step inside and find
That something's not quite what it seems
And when people talk to you it's mostly lies
To get to where they want to be. Yeah

And those LA lights shine bright you see
And the streets are paved with should have beads
And your perfect life is full of lovely screens

And those la light shine bright you see
And daddy's little girl is just another Hollywood b
Is just another Hollywood b
Is just another Hollywood b
