

James Vincent Mcmorrow

"Hear The Noise That Moves So Soft And Low"

Visit "Hear The Noise That Moves So Soft And Low" on MotoLyrics.com

verse 1

hear, hear the noise that moves so soft and slow that's the sound of freshly fallen snow your love is gold, your love is gold seems, seems as though we'll be stuck out here for days to bang upon these drums that we have made you never know, you never know chorus 1

my one, my only one lies sleeping in the sun gave chase and so we run nothing breaks your stride like whats become ohhhhh

verse 2

stack, stack the frozen wood next to the shed pile it up so high then paint it red, confuse the dogs, confuse the dogs and time, time we lost is resting on the stairs the window out reveals the cooler air and so we go, and so we go

chorus 2

my one, my only one,
lied twice to keep me on gave chase and so we sung everything that ends has still begun outro

from the inside of my mouth and the slow migration south it's not to be denied
it's not to be denied

