Cause I've been shattered broken I've been beaten
You may think you know me but that's a risk you take
Through all those scattered pictures left unspoken
You may make me stronger
But you make me weaker when it comes to my
Heart, to my heart

People call me a day dreamer but not because I sleep
Its cause, everyday I'm living my dreams
Don't you look back regret's more painful than fear
So put down the bottle everybody knows

And hold me
Say you'll never let go
You'll hold me
Say you'll never let me go

You can't trust your enemies you can't trust your friends
So count on no one and no one lets you down
Only those who fear death die
So don't turn you back on these words I cry

And hold me
Say you'll never let go
You'll hold me
Say you'll never let me go

Cause I've been shattered broken I've been beaten
You may think you know me but that's a risk you take
Through all those scattered pictures left unspoken
You may make me stronger
But you make me weaker when it comes to my
Heart, to my heart

Don't say that I don't need this
I'll take this to my grave as I toss and turn
My bones inside me have all hollowed away
And from this I will learn
I will learn
I will learn

Cause I've been shattered, unspoken, you are in my heart

Cause I've been shattered broken I've been beaten
You may think you know me but that's a risk you take
Through all those scattered pictures left unspoken
You may make me stronger
But you make me weaker when it comes to my
Heart, to my heart
(your in my heart)
