

Jay Nuova "Eternity"

Visit "Eternity" on MotoLyrics.com

[Verse]

As I sit here listening to your stories
How can our love be more glory
But surely it could all be made up
Your lies will always get me, it's like a drug
As I stand I'm trying to construct
But your intentions are so obstruct
Your love is addicting like heroine and meth
I can feel your blood pumping through my adrenaline
My mind stays fertile
But my love for you is turning hostile
From the look of your eyes i can see your weakness
It doesn't take a genius
You love like an Aquarius but your touch is from Venus
I'm gonna keep abstracting to set your feelings free
I'm not gonna stop until I can show you progression
The nature of love turning into aggression
Everyday her name jogs through my mind
My instincts are telling me she's like a martian
She's one of a kind
A consistent connection between us is difficult to find
A history of this connection is currently undefined
Lost in the game like an artist yet to be signed
Maybe it's just me? or maybe I'm just blind
I just want you to be mine
But i think I'm running out of time

Visit Jay Nuova page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.