

JEFF the Brotherhood

"Mystic Portal II"

Visit "Mystic Portal II" on MotoLyrics.com

I step right and discover a new space
And then left, and it is just the same
I got some air underneath my feet
The space above my head extends a few hundred miles

And if I take just a couple steps forward in time
There's a little bit of space I've left behind
But if I'm walking in my mind
I had better find someplace to go
Because I'm in the same space
Across my face
I feel a breeze but is it easy I don't know

So why don't you tell me what this shit is about Because you probably know all about

You step right and discover a new space
And then left, and it is just the same
You got some air underneath your feet
The space above your head extends a few hundred
miles

And if you take just a couple steps forward in time
There's a little bit of space you've left behind
But if your walking in your mind
You had better find someplace to go
Because your in the same space
Across your face
You feel a breeze but is it easy you don't know

So why don't I tell you what this shit is about Because I probably know all about

Visit JEFF the Brotherhood page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.