Danny lived just down the street
The boy in high school every girl would love to be with
In a world already crazy
He caught my heart and I called him baby

Some say love can kill the heart Addiction sets in quick and all control is lost
But now weâ€™re not fit for perfection
My heart is cold set for protection

But everything felt so good for so long
But then your feelings swept away in the storm
You brought across the light and took away the night
I guess thereâ€™s no more â€œgood morning
beautifulâ€

The cut is gone but the scar runs deep I listened to a song on the radio, I swear that I was bleedingâ€™
Filled with fire and bittersweet
Your body print still in the sheets

But everything felt so good for so long
But then your feelings swept away in the storm
You brought across the light and took away the night
I guess thereâ€™s no more â€œgood morning
beautifulâ€
I guess thereâ€™s no more â€œgood morning
beautifulâ€

You brought across the light and took away the night
I guess thereâ€™s no more â€œgood morning
beautifulâ€
I guess thereâ€™s no more â€œgood morning
beautifulâ€
