I know that lyin' is a sin
As I'm lyin' here with you
But the kind of love I'm in Makes it hard not to

So we may as well sleep in Though there are other things to do
'Cause the world feels like it should
When I'm makin' love to you

Where the river flows
Into the sea
Only heaven knows how
Your love flows through me

You're in my bones
And in my dreams
You're the one I love the most
And the rest stays between you and me and the Holy Ghost

Oh you're not my first love
And you may not be my last
But ask me if I give a damn
If I fall in love too fast

Oh, it will take you with the tide
It may move you far and wide
Me, I'm happy just to be here
By your side

Oh, the world cold
And the winter long
So you're growing old
And your love is gone

Spring is taking her sweet time
But surely she will come
If there's one thing that I know
It's that love is a design on everyone

Oh I don't know why the world is spinnin' 'round

Or why the sky is blue
I don't know how you are the one that I found
But I'm happy that the world goes 'round when I'm makin' love to you
Yeah life is sweet and God is good when I'm makin' love to you
This old world feels like it should when I'm makin' love to you
