"If I Could Dance On The Sky"

If I could dance on the sky I would really stop wondering why I cry
If I could write you a story that would paint a land of silver and gold
I would cook you the finest meal and buy you the best wine
If I could always be at the place where the water shines
I would line the streets with a million stars

I get the thought and pick up my pen before it slips away at the end of the day

(Chorus)

If I could then I can and I will while I walk
and while I sing to you

If I could take away all the lies that people say I would bury them deep within the earth to melt away
In a land where the dark becomes the light and the forest becomes a house to rest

(Chorus)

If I could
then I can
and I will
while I walk
and while I sing to you

If I could dance on the sky I would really stop
wondering why I cry
If I could write you a story that would paint a land of
silver and gold
I would cook you the finest meal and buy you the best
wine
If I could always be at the place where the water shines
I would line the streets with a million stars

I get the thought and pick up my pen before it slips
away at the end of the day

(Chorus)

If I could
then I can
and I will
while I walk
and while I sing to you

If I could take away all the lies that people say I would bury them deep within the earth to melt away

If I could
then I can
and I will
and while I walk
(repeat chorus)
