whoever thought it would be tonight we'd celebrate the end of it? they both showed up at the same time you crossed the line with a big smile you needed every bit of that her nickname is miss hard time

(i'm ready!)

she's never wrong and he's never right and now we're at the end of it they both went home at the same time he never won cause he never tried and she could finally see the end of it in the cold rain falling from the sky

(i'm ready!)

you never even knew what you had 'til it walked away you can't keep ahold of what you have, it's walking away
here you go again
taking it all out on me
i do believe this is the second time that i've told you...

did we all forget to put the instincts aside?
let's move on with it, i'm calling you miss hard time.
(what're you gonna say?) (what're you gonna think?)

here you go again
you're taking it all out on me
that i've told you goodbye here we go again
you're taking it all out on me
i do believe that this is the second time that i've told you goodbye.
