Happiness is cold at night, but it feels so good.
Forget the lies we're stuck inside,
Don't let them tell us what we should do.
You know, it doesn't right the wrongs, no matter what you thought.
Moving closer towards the light, but still so far away.
My loneliness is knit so tight, I'm hoping this will change my world.

There's something there inside me and it won't go
away, it won't go away.
Said there's something there inside me and it won't go
away, it won't go away.
Won't go away, won't go away.

Lights go off, we fuck around, this just don't feel the same.
From what I've lost, I've somehow found,
Things are only what you make them.

Still there's something there inside me and it won't go
away, it won't go away.
Said there's something there inside me and it won't go
away, it won't go away.
It won't go away, it won't go away.

You know I wanna, you know I wanna,
You know I wanna, you know I wanna.

There's something there inside me and it won't go
away, it won't go away.
Said there's something there inside me and it won't go away.

I'm falling and I'm falling, I feel like heaven's calling me.
