Driving slow through the cool night
Wanna see you in the bright lights
You step into the spotlight
With your red dress and your face white

And I wait for you to turn and see
But you don't catch your eye on me

I remember when you were first mine
When our eyes met for the first time
We made love then watched the sunrise
Then we kissed and said our goodbyes

And I know you never wanted to leave
But now you don't catch your eye on me
No you don't catch your eye on me

I saw it all in your face
Just before you walked away
I saw it all in your face
Do you know what you betray?

You stand alone on the platform
Crowd around you keeping you warm
I watch your face till the train comes
For the trace I knew for too long

And I know you never wanna believe
'Cause you won't sacrifice for me
No you won't sacrifice for me
No you won't sacrifice for me
