When you spend your whole life
Building stone castles
When the walls start to crumble
Exposed to the world

When the wind burns my face
And the smoke burns my eyes
I can't ever cry
I can't ever cry

You gotta help
To make me somebody
You gotta help
To open my eyes

Temperature's rising
How a cool drink would help
I've been thirsty for years
I've been thirsty for years

I'm hungry for something
Just the touch of your flesh
To sooth and refresh
To sooth and refresh

You gotta help
To make me somebody
You gotta help
To open my eyes

You gotta help
To make me somebody
You gotta help
To open my eyes
You gotta help

The temperature's rising
How a cool drink would help
I've been thirsty for years
I've been thirsty for years
I've been thirsty for years
I've been thirsty for years

You gotta help
To make me somebody
You gotta help
To open my eyes

You gotta help
To make me somebody
You gotta help
To open my eyes

You gotta help
You gotta help, help
You gotta help
You gotta help, help, help

You gotta help me
