I didn't mean to disappoint you mom
But I'm growing up and I'm feeling like a time bomb
I'm a troublemaker, a liar and I'm up to no good
And I've done nothing of the things that I promised
I should

Maybe I wanna waste my life
(my choices are my own)
Don't need pressure from anyone
(I'm sick of being controlled)
I don't know what you expect of me
(And I don't really care)
Cause this is my goddamn life I swear

All that really matters are my friends
And I can't really trust anyone of them
Cause all the kids I've grown up with are gone
And now I'm hanging with the lowlifes at the bar
