I would try, my very best to convince you now I would lie, for that I would say anything that I thought that youâ€™d wanna hear to make you love me again

I would do anything to get a reaction out of you in your arms, or nowhere and I would make you remember, all those promises we made on those nights, long ago

I would wrong you for no one, for no one I would harm you for no one, for no one

When I see your face, in the back of my mind itâ€™s always with a smile when you hear my name, do you think of me still does it sting, or have you let go

Anything goes, when desperation set the rules and itâ€™s late, in this game though I know, that itâ€™s impossible to win I still try n try

I would wrong you for no oneâ€¦
When I see your faceâ€¦

I would scream, out loud, just to hear your name again itâ€™s an ease to my soul
I would love, all those things that I said I hated before as I plead with you now

I would wrong you for no oneâ€¦
When I see your faceâ€¦
