Im following the maps end to see where i may have lost my mind im calling out a search warrent to see what i can find and im doin my best just to get through till there's something better than this day but im starting to think that it's never gonna change retracing all my footsteps to see where i went wrong how much deeper is rock bottom? how much farther can i fall?

but im trying my best just to get through till there's something better than this one but im starting to think that its never gonna come

woah do do
woah do do
woah do do

im working all the time but im never gonna be enough if attitude is grattitude then why you gotta show me none?

well im starting to get the impression that everything's my fault because that every little everyday thing keeps goin wrong

woah do do
woah do do
