I'm in love with another woman
Who simply ain't my wife
She haunts my every thought
She taunts my troubled mind

She ghosts right through my body
Like a phantom on wings of the night

I'm in love with a woman
Who simply ain't my wife

I'm in love with an amazing woman
She just is not my wife
But will I tell my pastor, friends
My family or said blushing bride?

I cannot seem to pray this preying madness off my troubled mind
Lord, I just didn't see this coming in my life

The honeymoon's great but I wish that you were here
