Running against time to see your face
I'm going mad longing for your embrace
Oooh missing you is killing me and it's your fault

Highways, deserts, streets, moons, bars and skies
That I've been crossing in naked nights
Oooh ended taking me to where you are

The wind that blows into my eyes blinds me
But still your warmness finds me
Oooh take me back to memories of you

Where to go? All I know
It's all in vain
Quiet times of loneliness remain
Where to go? All I know
It's all in vain
Quiet times of loneliness remain

The world spins your way, not any other
God painted it your favorite color and style
Oooh every short cut ends up in your naked smile

My heart beat is playing the music of my soul in love sounds more or less like rock and roll
Oooh gets me once again dreaming of you

Now any song I write will fit you just fine
You are the lyric of my life
Oooh you're crazy storm takes over my Sahara

Where to go? All I know
It's all in vain
Quiet times of loneliness remain
Where to go? All I know
It's all in vain
Quiet times of loneliness remain
