The Door of the Past

Verse 1

I don't know how to walk without you
I don't know where I'm going
I don't know how to live without you
I don't know where lies my path from here

Chorus:

But I close the door of the past
So I can see again, for my love for you robbed me blind
I close the door of the past
So I can fly again, for my love for you kept me hostage
I close the door of the past
So I can breathe again, for my love for you was bondage
I close the door of the past
So I can love again, give me back my heart

Verse 1

I close this door of the past, it was like prison
They say, "You close one door, another opens," but where is it?
Give me back the time I spent with you Give me back the tears I cried because of you Give me back the love I sent you But keep the Light I shone upon you, so you always know God's love inside our souls and hearts
