Verse One;

I C Jozi companies making millions of rand in profits,
Da CEO gushing down like water on da streets.
Never expect him to worry about your wellbeing,
Cuz welfare is buying his wife an expensive ring.
He munches chocopologie en drinks Diva Vodka,
While driving with arrogance in a VW Amarok.
En every1 is making money en cares 4 their living,
Y donâ€™t u adopt these street kids still starving?
They watch en beg 4 help with no family tie,
Their hearts bleeding the blood with tears that neva
dry.

I watch em poor standards of living in shame,
En none tame the issue but they're all running 4 fame.
Now fuck the CSIs neva reached to Joburg to help,
They classify the forsaken street kid as whelp.
Ay my Lord the City of Gold shouldnâ€™t b so mean,
When the Holy Ghostâ€™s on His laurels like a teen!

Chorus x 4

A better life for all, Madafakin Joburg Owes Us.

Verse Two;

Now itâ€™s about time we approached all
economyâ€™s sectors,
As we all ought to contribute as economic actors.
The consumersâ€™ loyalty makes entities viable,
En crucial in this world is 2 b socially responsible.
Time is money en in business profit-growthâ€™s crucial,
Expenditure on consumersâ€™ welfare programmes comes partial.
None of the poor benefit the most but the richest gains
the toast,
Is it really fair 4 wealth inequalities 2 subsist?
I watch as a young hoodlum worrying bout my peopleâ€™s welfare,
As my young bradaz dying in Joburg Claim Streetâ€™s stare.
Joziâ€™s Mr. Povertyâ€™s unknown mama died of hunger,
She had nothing as means en it brought me anger.

Her corpse laid down en cops watching doing nothing,
I couldn't speak as a stranger but I had something.
Ay my Lord the City of Gold shouldn't b so mean,
When the Holy Ghost's on His laurels like a teen!

Chorus x 4
