Lately I've been out, hung up on this one girl
You know the type, out every busy night
I like her flavor but this one thing got me grinded:
She never talks to me before I'm talking to her

Every time is the same situation
She wants me to be a proper gentleman Holding doors, buying drinks, be polite to her friends just so that I can have my weekend romance

Oh has no-one told you uooh why she's so cold to you uooooh She's never had a man so you gotta make her feel your intentions are real

You gotta move, gotta make the first move
Don't wait for them! Don't wait for them!
You gotta move, gotta make the first move
Don't wait for them! Don't wait for them!

I know this guy he is probably 35 now Dark and tall, you'd think he has it all On good behavior and he never brakes a promise but in his double bed he's always sleeping alone

Last year there was a girl around
She asked him to walk her home from town
He said politely no, he did not understand that all she ever wanted was the touch of his hand

Oh, why is he so alone, uooh He's never with someone. Could it be that no-one told him: If you hold a woman dear boy you better make it clear

You gotta move, gotta make the first move
Don't wait for them! Don't wait for them!
You gotta move, gotta make the first move
Be a proper gentleman and make the first move
