Blame It On Gravity

I Will Remain

this is more than I can tolerate ehe kind of pain you've got to medicate

I can't remember why I couldn't wait to get so close to you try to call you on the telephone you never answer but I know you're home

I wonder why I'm so all alone while I'm so close to you

I will remain I will remain right here outside your door
I will remain I will remain here forever oh girl you are a problem still you know I love you and I always will throw a rock up on a window sill baby come down god I'm feeling like a wannabe I only wanna make her notice me

make her love me on a count of three I am counting it down

I will remain I will remain right here outside your door
I will remain I will remain here forever

I am infatuated with you but you don't know that I exist sat in the rain and I waited for you this is more than I can tolerate the kind of pain you've got to medicate

I can't remember why I couldn't wait to get so close to
you

oh I'm so close to you

I will remain I will remain right here outside your door
I will remain I will remain here forever

I will remain I will remain here forever
