Well the sun's done gone don't hand me no light
The moon and the man will be rolling all night
Scorpio's up, a-leadin' ol' Dan to pasture.
The hours behind are always too few
The miles between can't begin to undo
The feeling that you will never see another like her.

Damn the lonesome ways and the young and foolish
days
And the kid who made the man who'd leave you.
So with the sink of the ship, I'm going to dip into that hue
'til I color me like I colored you,

The color of a lonely heart
And the color of a lonely heart is blue.
The color of a lonely heart
And the color of a lonely heart is blue.
The color of a lonely heart
And the color of a lonely heart is blue.

GUITAR SOLO

Stars go off like flash-pot dots that sparkle under candle power and stop
Lift up your light 'cause you'll never see a night that's blacker.
And the weight of it all gets heavier still.
And time as it crawls will go slower until Scorpio's up, a-leadin' ol' Dan to Cancer.

Damn the lonesome ways and the young and foolish
days,
And the kid who made the man who'd leave you.
So with the sink of the ship, I'm gonna dip into that hue
'til I color me like I colored you:

The color of a lonely heart
And the color of a lonely heart is blue.
The color of a lonely heart
And the color of a lonely heart is blue.

The color of a lonely heart
And the color of a lonely heart is blue.
