I've always thought of dreams as something you should keep to yourself
No one will know you failed, No one would know you fell

But there's something in the way we hold each other's hands while we sleep I'm waking up to find you're not only on my mind

CHORUS:

You're in my dreams even though you're inches from me now
You're still running through my head
And in the night as you rested gently I fell in love with you again
You're in my dreams

And when there's nothing left, no way to carry on in this life
It's easy to forget the love I feel right now

You're in my dreams even though you're
inches from me now
You're still running through my head
And in the night as you rested gently I fell in love with
you again
You're in my dreams

We said it all, we said nothing at all. We said it all...

You're in my dreams even though you're
inches from me now
You're still running through my head
And in the night as you rested gently I fell in love with
you again
You're in my dreams

You're in my dreams
You're in my dreams

Oooooohhh....

Iâ€™ve never thought of dreams as something you should keep to yourself.
