Way up there we're simple and small down here we're complex and tall belief is it all

What's right to one is wrong, so I'll agree to get alone before we're all gone

Everyone's so blind
no one seems to mind
nothing but time

We're living in a micro space traveling at a hectic pace there's really no race

People die of hunger but no one seems to wonder what happens to them?

The world sounds get tougher well no one chooses to suffer somethings gone right

Everyone's so blind
no one seems to mind
nothing but time

It's time that we stood up and got rid of the corruption because we had enough

They've turned us against each other everyone's scared of their brother they disguised the fact that we are all one and that

No one has to be blind and everyone should mind it's the perfect time we're living in a macro space we're traveling at a peaceful pace

The illusion was the race
