For so long we slave under the gun
And this war inside is never won
I have always sworn that I won't conform
I refuse to suffer anymore

The calm before the storm
You were never warned
You always think it's up to them again to bail you out
Responsibility is now priority
Well don't forget the fact we eat, sleep, and breathe here...
But never fear

For so long we slave under the gun
And this war inside is never won
I have always sworn that I won't conform
I refuse to suffer anymore

So now you feel the wrath of your own aftermath
The constant fear impending danger lurks behind your back
It doesn't seem so extreme
When you watch it from your screen
And go on living with a false security
And broken dreams

For so long we slave under the gun
And this war inside is never won
I have always sworn that I won't conform
And I'm not going to suffer anymore

No I won't fall in line
Or live by your design
I'll keep my head up now
And I'll be fine

For so long we've slaved slaved under the gun
And this war inside is never won
I have always sworn that I won't conform
I refuse to suffer anymore

So now you feel the wrath of your own aftermath
The constant feeling impending danger lurks behind your back
It doesn't seem so extreme
When you watch it from your screen
I won't trade my freedom...
Anymore
