Something got me out of my
Slumber in the broken light
Watching you across the room
Shadowed by the passing moon

I can feel it in my bones
Something that nobody knows
How it really feels inside
To let go of all my pride

I sense it
I feel it
I sense it
I feel it

Something in the way you lie
Something so hard to find
Something in the way you slammed that door
Something always left me wanting more
Something in the way you smile
You make a silly joke and it's fine
Something in the way you are
Something in the way you are

I'm wondering about your childhood
Wonder if you were misunderstood

I'm watching you inside your head
I wonder if you know how long I've cared
I can feel it in my bones
I love all of the sticks and stones (you throw)
And every little word you say
You break me in the best way

Something in the way you lie
Something so hard to find

Something in the way you slammed that door
Something always left me wanting more
Something in the way you smile
You make a silly joke and it's fine
Something in the way you are
Something in the way you are

Something when you look so tough
Something I can't get enough (of)
Something when you make that sound
Something when you're breaking down
Something when you raise your voice
I know that I don't have a choice
Something in the way you are
Something in the way you are

You're my favourite past time
Even when you're just passing by
Stay a little while
It's only you and I

You're my favourite past time
Even when you're just passing by
Stay a little while
It's only you and I
