I hear you calling out but my feet are standing still What's it gonna take to make me move
I know your always there and your all I ever need
But I can't seem to give it all up to you

I'm holding on to, I'm holding on to you
you are the only way the truth and life
you are holding me up

Maybe someday I'll find the strength to let go of all this world wants me to hold on to But I don't want to wait to give it all to you
So I cry out louder now, cause you're always true

I'm holding on to, I'm holding on to you
you are the only way the truth and life
you are holding me up
I'm holding on to, I'm holding on to you
you are the only way the truth and life
you are holding me up

Im holding on to, Im holding on to you
Im holding on to, Im holding on to you

I'm holding on to, I'm holding on to you
you are the only way the truth and life
you are holding me up
