intro:

The Psalms of David 55, verse number 22

"cast your burden upon the Lord and he shall sustain you, Amen"

Rib cage music, i put my heart

Chorus (Phillipa)

You got to let it go//

No matter how it go//

Jesus Christ can take your pain//

And free you from all the worries

Verse 1 (Kobby Dope)

That old habit, you drinking and you smoking cos your homies love it//

You want the people to call you real, so you won't stop it//

You think your eyes gbele kyee, truth is you are just an old addict//

We get it the world has been cruel to you//

Getting to eat three times a day was news to you//

Cos your mummy flat broke and your dad aint got a job//

So now the money has come, you wanna blow it like a boss

You love that boy with all your heart and he broke it//

You were blind to the fact that he always had a motive//

So when the next guy came along to say that//

He loved you; you thought to yourself this is payback

Your heart is too heavy, your think it's all lost//

You want to get revenge on the world at all cost

You wanna be a cool kid, you want the girls to feel you//

You wanna be famous; you wanna wear the new shoes

You too damn proud and you look down on people//

And if they are not rich and famous, to you they are unequal

Your big ego wants to teach everyone a lesson//

So i want to ask one question

You piling chicks, you riding whips//

You flying trips, you buying kicks//
Your money grown, you counting chips//
You got swag, you stunning big
Then what x2
You get revenge, you cool indeed//
Everybody know say you be gee
You all famous around the town//
And then the trumpet sounds//
Then what x2

Bridge (Phillipa)

Believe and let go, let Christ live in your heart
Believe and let go, let Christ live in your heart
Let go, no matter how it goes let go, let go

Believe and let go, let Christ live in your heart
Believe and let go, let Christ live in your heart
Live in your heart, Let Christ live in your heart

Chorus (Phillipa)

You got to let it go//
No matter how it go//
Jesus Christ can take your pain//
And free you from all the worries

There is nothing new under the sun
Your situation is different but not too different
Let Christ take away the pain from your heart
Let go, let live, and always put a smile on that face
