Even if you turn away
Sweep it all aside under the rug
Nothing ventured, nothing gained
But your problems still remain

If you're living in denial
Afraid to face yourself, wasted all the time
When I look into your eyes
I see something inside of you
That was once inside of me

And I've been there before
I've nearly lost my wife, my friends and more

You'll find out sooner or later
You'll find out sooner or later
You'll find out sooner or later
You'll find out sooner or later

If your life become a mess
And put you to the test, just like all the rest
When I look into your eyes
I see something inside of you

You'll find out sooner or later
(You'll find out)
You'll find out sooner or later
(You'll find out)
You'll find out sooner or later
(You'll find out)
You'll find out sooner or later

You'll find out sooner or later
(You'll find out)
You'll find out sooner or later
(You'll find out)
You'll find out sooner or later
(You'll find out)
You'll find out sooner or later
