My soul is frozen and it's tied...
My ears find no voice of you...
My legs torn in sadness...
I'm standing in the darkness... I can never go on...

Rain in the way... the light is far away...

How many times did I shout your name in the storm?
My voice's drying out..
I live because of you, so I believe...
"close your eyes"
Therefore, this pain never heals...

My eyes flowing with sorrow has twisted my world...
Everlasting memories have lost it's taste
And became my enemy and hate.

Rain in the way... the light is far away...

How many times did I shout your name in the storm?
My voice's drying out..
I live because of you, so I believe...
"close your eyes"
I know... I can never reach for you...
I live because of you, so I believe...
"close your eyes"
I don't regret dying for you...
