Just stop, I can't be here anymore
These hands have relinquished so much more than I can give
Gone is the picture I once saw
Why try to mend it?
It's become so hard to live in this skin

Whenever it feels like hope is gone
I will find shelter from the storm
And be safe within
In this skin
All of my walls come crashing down
I know I'll make it through somehow
And be safe within, yeah
In this skin

Leave, there's no reason for you here
So close to breaking I could burst
But I just keep hurting myself
I, I can't be saved this time, my dear
This is isn't happiness and I just wanna wake as someone else

When it feels like hope is gone
I will find shelter from the storm
And be safe within
In this skin
All of my walls come crashing down
I know I'll make it through somehow
And be safe within, yeah
In this skin
