Although your breaking bows
all I know
is you are my home
half cut hopes
distant ghosts
those that come close

our love
our love
the shadow under heaven
our love
our love
the grace we were given and since then I worry for my memory for my mind for my body

you have my heart
you always will stir with me in the morning till your demons have gone we will rise in the early sun we always will we always will

my love my love
there's a life behind your eyes they move like the sun
we have we have
shelter when this life is done

You have my heart
you will always will stir with me in the morning when your demons have gone we will rise in the early sun
we always will
we always will
we always will

our love our love the shadow under heaven

All though your breaking bows
all I know

is you are my home
half cut hopes
distant ghosts
those that come close
