Five years that's how long that I had to do with it
To sacrifice to live with it your mess your lies your cheating
And you thought that you are so slick
When you were messing around with that chick
I never knew it will come down to this Seems like you are trying to work things out baby
And you still want meet me half way
I really wish we could find a better way to resolve this
.. to fight talking about who's wrong who's right
Everyday we're switching roles once again here we go

Chorus

I walk out you walk in
The same old shit is happening
All around we go
Where we stop nobody knows
Got my bags out the door
Here we go

I'm so gone
You made your bed
Now sleep in it
I'm so gone
I swear that I'll finish
You should made those changes from the beginning
I was a fool in love
I couldn't see what was to come
One foot out and one foot in
Tell me is this the end
I really was trying to work things out
But you still won't meet me half way
And it's obvious that we'll never solve this
.. to fight talking about about who's wrong who's right
Everyday we're switching roles once again here we go

Chorus
