You'll never touch my face
We'll never play these games
We'll never be the same

I think about that night
You never said goodbye
You only looked away

It's like my heart stopped beating
When you walked away
And all that I believed in
Is going to waste

You'll never know that I love
You'll never know that I trusted you in every way
You'll never know that I miss
You'll never know that I think about you every day

I never called you out
Because it hurts too much
Oh I regret that day

I never dared to ask
If you would take me back
Scared of what you'd say

Because my heart stopped beating
And you walked away
And all that I believed in
Is going to waste

You'll never know that I love
You'll never know that I trusted you in every way
You'll never know that I miss
You'll never know that I think about you every day

You'll never know these years I cried
Without sleeping on your side
And you've been thinking of me
I don't, I don't know
You'll never know I'm up all night
You're still the best thing in my life
And if you ever come back
I'll never, I'll never know

You'll never know that I love

You'll never know that I trusted you in every way
You'll never know that I miss
You'll never know that I think about you every day

You'll never know these years I cried
Without sleeping on your side
And you've been thinking of me
I don't, I don't know
You'll never know I'm up all night
You're still the best thing in my life
And if you ever come back
I'll never, I'll never know
