We've never really been at this point before
(this is where you lose me)
It's a lonely fight and I'm left wondering
How to make it right with you
All that's left to do is crash and burn, it's true.

Cuz I think I love you,
Wait no, I know that I do
And I realized that I need you.
And I cry when I come undone
I am done.

Thinking back now
I realized I said it all wrong
You weren't the one
I should have taken it out

Oh, you lose me when we're out of time.
You know that there is nothing with you on my mind
Give me another chance

I know, I've wanted you for so long
I'd never thought we'd find a fork in this perfect road
With you, everything just seemed so like a dream
And I don't want to wake up if I can't have it still Can't we get back to where we belong forever?

Cuz I think I love you,

Wait no, I know that I do
And I realized that I need you
And I cry when I come undone
I am done.

Thinking back now
I realized I said it all wrong
You weren't the one
I should have taken it out

Love me one word at a time
You should know that
There is nothing with you on my mind

Give me another chance

We've never really been at this point before
And I'm left wondering
And I'm left wondering
And I'm left wondering
How to make it right with you

Cuz I think you love me,
Wait no, I know that you do
And I know you need me
Just like I need you.

I hope you don't cry when you come undone
What else could we have done?
