hear this song its made for u long over due so here goes home truths that i have to disclose remove the mask you hide your handsome face behind take heat its advice you might need i know what truth you're hiding underneath you are just the same as me take off your coat of fears you'll find no use for your coat here wipe away what wets your brow its over now lay low

i know what truth your hiding underneath you are just the same as me
you are just the same as me
