I'm not insane (but maybe you are)
They call me insane, from inside their car.
With their windows up (they call from afar)
I'm not mad (but maybe you are)

Pavlov's dog, what a hog
Sold his soul for a brainless doll
Sucked off his boss, what a toss
You're a slag and a dag and it makes you feel glad

They call us names
We're used to their games,
We don't blame them for the way their insecurity
was trained
At the sheep factory avenue, it used to be cool
But don't forget that we've left high school

I'm not insane (but maybe you are)
They call me insane, from inside their car.
With their windows up (they call from afar)
I'm not mad (but maybe you are)

I'm not mad (but maybe you are)
I'm not mad (but maybe you are)
I'm not mad (but maybe you are)
I'm not mad (but maybe you are)
