Go ahead, just let them stare with those beady eyes
They're all ignorant and fear is their disguise
I know we're different but we're all the same
Pick your head up now there's no need to be ashamed

Don't be scare to let yourself shine
Holding back your real side
Show them who you are
Don't regret the way that you feel
All the things that make you
The brightest of them all

They'll try to break you down, Let's rise above them now
Cause the're the ones who sit above obnoxious
With their crowns
Brain washed and confused, hanging by the noose
Of all the critics dying, dying to amusie

Don't be scared to let yourself shine
Holding back your real side
Show them who you are
Don't regret the way that you feel
All the things that make you
The brightest of them all

[Screams]
Don't!
Be yourself!
Be yourself!
Be who you are!

Don't be scared to let yourself shine
Holding back your real side
Show them who you are
Don't regret the way that you feel
All the things that make you
The brightest of them all
