"I Love You"

I'm feeling everything between highrise and fall. You were everything before you felt so small and I know-and I know. I'm hearing everyone complaining in my ear. I'm hiding in my room draining out from fear- and I know- and I know (chorus) that I love you- I love you

It's not just a word defining what I do. Healing everyone and being purely true. Running out the door believing i'm in pain. Bleeding up the street because I need to say-
I love you- I love you- I love you- I love you...
...but in the end- when it's true- I will send- to be with you- and when it's time- when I say- when you cry- it's not today- but it's soon.
