(instrumental)

I'm always at the place where your friends meet,
It's the long way home but i walk your street
And when i trip, and fall right at your feet.
It's not accidental.

I make it like luck is in the air,
Everytime you turn, im standing there
You look into the stars, our names are clear.
It's not accidental.

And when you get a wrong number,
Don't hang up too soon and wonder.

You are the one thats meant for me
I'm twisting fate to make believe.
It's all accidental
This was always meant to be
When you're in my arms, you'll see
It wasn't accidental.

I know you like the kind of clothes I wear
Think I threw them out without a care
The style's from a book
You read a magazine you left.
It's not coincidental.

And even when you hear your favourite song
You dont know, but i put it on
You bought the record yesterday, so i knew what to play
It's not coincidental.
And when you get a wrong number,
Don't hang up too soon and wonder.

You are the one thats meant for me
I'm twisting fate to make believe.
It's all accidental
This was always meant to be
When you're in my arms, you'll see
It wasn't accidental.

This all feels right time, right place
Cause everytime I see you face to face
Our future calls.
Not saying you bend the truth
Just doing my best to get you, my destiny.

You are the one thats meant for me
I'm twisting fate to make believe.
It's all accidental
This was always meant to be
When you're in my arms, then you'll see
It wasn't accidental.

You are the one thats meant for me
I'm twisting fate to make believe.
It's all accidental
This was always meant to be
When you're in my arms, then you'll see
It wasn't accidental.

It's not accidental
Accidental.
