I hear the sounds of children crying without hope. All the hunger and disease we create without remorse.
When darkness covers all and takes over our souls.
When day becomes night and the light is no more

Is it all there is blue sky turns to fire. Is all there is in a flash the whole world shatters. Is it all there is?

I hear on the Internet you can find a mate. One you can inflat who is made to penetrate. When desire conquers reason without debate, in a world gone mad how can i have faith?

Is it all there is blue sky turns to fire. Is all there is in a flash the whole world shatters. Is it all there is?

Love is a product you can buy on sale. We head out never realizing that where of trail. If everything is written then why do i care, or just let the flow of time to finish as it dares

Is it all there is blue sky turns to fire. Is all there is in a flash the whole world shatters. Is it all there is?
