Brittle little bird
Spread your dark and golden wings
Unstitch all my books
When did I stop learning?

Such powerful song
I heard you weep it through the walls
As scarlet fever grows
So the golden hands of god

Color for my eyes

A beautiful garden blooms
My dearest one
Your love carried me through today
I'll give you the moon
Dearest one
Your love carried me through today

Am I going to have twins?
I can feel them kicking
Don't let the water too soon
