I traded my heart for a dream, I walked away
I thought I could do what I want and have no one to blame
I'm swimming in thoughts about the better days
Only you can save me from this mess I made

Head under water, head under water
The further I get, the more I keep sinking down
Head under water, head under water
The deeper I get, the more I think I will drown

I find that love is like the raging sea
I only pray that you'll come back to me
In all my mistakes I've learned what I'm living for Whatever it takes to make it back to shore

Head under water, head under water
The further I get, the more I keep sinking down
Head under water, head under water
The deeper I get, the more I think I will drown

So S.O.S. I do confess I hope you find me
I'll hold my breath until you lead me back to solid ground
Safe and sound

Head under water, head under water
The further I get, the more I keep sinking down
Head under water, head under water
The deeper I get, the more I think I will drown
