I can't believe what I'm saying
I never thought I'd feel this way
I can't breathe my heart is breaking
I never thought I'd see the day

Now that sweet has turned to sour

Instead of turning into gold
We lost something to behold
All my tears have washed away
Now only bitterness remains

All of the lies you've been faking
I'm on to all the games you play
This is a mess in the making
I should have known to turn away

From kisses that quickly turn to poison

Instead of turning into gold
We lost something to behold
All my tears have washed away
Now only bitterness remains

There's nowhere to run to
The life that I wanted seems so far
It's not that I don't love you
It's just that I don't know you anymore

Instead of turning into gold
We lost something to behold
All my tears have washed away
Now only bitterness remains

Instead of turning into gold
We lost something to behold
All my tears have washed away
Now only bitterness remains
Now only bitterness remains
Only bitterness remains
