If you can see through it all
If you can see that I'm here
Did the moment pass you by
Are there words there out to try

Cause who would have thought
I knew you moved, I followed you so fast

Made me run and then I learned
That taking time will make us last

Tell me if you love someone
She tells you how to live your life
But you're looking for something more
Don't wanna be nobody else
And you let them know that
It's not you, you're not afraid
Lines around your eyes will disappear

If you don't know where to go
If you won't leave til it's done
Tell me if there can be one
We don't know where we should run

Watching, hear the noise, it makes you smile
But it will leave you burned

All the rushing in around
Let's make it work and see what we have learned

Tell me if you love someone
She tells you how to live your life
But you're looking for something more
Don't wanna be nobody else
And you let them know that
It's not you, you're not afraid
Lines around your eyes will disappear

All of this falls down
All of this falls down

Words that will fall out
Faster than you wanted, oh
and I heard that
Did you let them go
The words they will fall out
Faster than you wanted, oh
And I heard that
Did you let them

Tell me if you love someone
Do you love them all

She tells you how to live your life
But you're looking for something more
Don't wanna be nobody else
And you let them know that
It's not you, you're not afraid
Lines around your eyes will disappear
