Might I crave a crawling imposter Head held for miles to come Simply slice a prayer to answer as the daylight lets me run

Of all the schemes that you've conducted
This one makes it safe Erasing all my fond memories of a life you couldn't take

We all have these disasters
They let you know they run
She'll never stay any longer
as long as you still run

We all have these disasters
They let you know they run
She'll never stay any longer
as long as you still run
