This is the name of the game.
That's the name of the game
We're placing the shame
And you are to blame
Through all of your fame and acclaim
You're nothing
Found
Hunt me down
Take me round
Out of town going down
Take a breath
On the floor
Like before
Washed ashore so early
Where did we go, where have we been.
When all along we should have been fighting.
For what he had, what we were, what we could have
been last night.
But I'll never know Where we'd ever go If you'd ever shown to invite me
And I'll never ever see
What we'd ever ever be Cus ill never ever
ever be free
Kneel at my feet.
Stop
With your game
Push your name
For the fortune and fame
Push yourself
Not your belt
How you felt
Is all clear to me
Where did we go, where have we been.
been last night.
But I'll never know Where we'd ever go If you'd ever
shown to invite me
And I'll never ever see
What we'd ever ever be
Cus ill never ever

ever be free
Take away my heart
Take away my soul
Take away the money
After everything you stole
Take away my trust
Then I trust you all the same
Then leave me in the corner
With your money and your fame
So ill jump upon your heart
And sit upon your soul
And redirect your money
After everything you stole
Then ill play them at your game
And they'll trust me all the same
And ill end up here with everything your money and your fame.
And you'll pretend your happy
Because people know your name
But ill be sitting in the corner with your money and your fame
But theres noone knows my face
And theres no one knows my name
But ill be sitting in your mind
With your money and your fame
And you will keep on crying because noone knows your name
When the start of all your dismay was the money and the fame
And the night you slept with djs and said no one was to blame
And I was sat here alone thinking existence was a shame
[slow]
Where did we go, where have we been.
been last night.
But I'll never know Where we'd e ver go If you'd ever
shown to invite me
And I'll never ever see
What we'd ever ever be
Cus ill never ever
ever be free
[chorusx2]
Where did we go, where have we been.
been last night.
But I'll never know Where we'd e ver go If you'd ever
shown to invite me

And I'll never ever see
What we'd ever ever be
Cus ill never ever
ever be free
