I'm very close to far away
And I can't hear the words you say
So take what you can, take what you find
Take it all into your mind

I'm very close to letting go
Even closer than you know
I need what you have, need what you give
I need your love to make me live

[Incomprehensible]
It's been a while without [Incomprehensible]
So talk to me now, talk to me slow
Say the words I told you so

I know you don't believe me
Or all the things I say
But if you'd just receive me
We're very close to far away

I'm very close to far away
And I can't hear the words you say
So take what you can, take what you find
Take it all into your mind

I know you don't believe me
Or all the things I say
But if you'd just receive me
We're very close to far away

I'm very close to far away
And I can't hear the words you say
I need what you have, need what you give
I need your love to make me live

I'm very close to letting go
Even closer than you know
So take what you can, take what you find
Take it all into your mind
