"Our Lady Of Darkness"

When I feel you are away, I know where you are gone
As I look out and see there is no shining sun
I walk into the woods, under the great trees
And reach the shores where your bright shadow is

Our lady of darkness dancing on the shores
Pale moonlight with your pale beauty
I hide among the trees watching you
Waiting to be invited into your dream...

No matter if it blows so sweet
I can't change the way of the wind
Without the lady my nights are dark
So now shall I leave... to die?

"I am slaved in a world separate from yours
Here I await for my curse to die
We cannot be the moon and the stars
Shining into each other's nighttimes..."

"We cannot be the moon and the stars
Shining into each other's nighttimes..."

I stand here awaiting the lady to come
But if she won't return I'll no longer be alive...
