Smoke gloats today
Might have been the last time
Spark clogs tonight
Biding your own time

They try to put you down, stay true to your school
Stay true to your school
Since you're convinced it's right, stay true to your school
Stay true to your school

Smoke will go up, upward and up
Rain can't stop, you're not near
Glade stuck in your face, won't dry away
And I won't help, that is clear

Couldn't take
Yesterday was walking over Jordan
By mistake, it was my mistake
Yesterday was walking over Jordan

These are the things that keep him sane
These are the things that aggravate
Some fall asleep and don't awake
Some failing all the undertakes
Some try real hard but it's too late
Some get their wings immaculate
He can't let go, his arms will break
These are the things that aggravate

He's not talking loud
But something screams it out
On the top of lungs
And big building tops

They try to put down, stay true to your school
Stay true to your school

We model our thoughts so they seem deep
Two chances or less is what you get

It won't help, that is clear

Jealousy, yesterday was walking over Jordan
Halfheartedly never worked for me
Yesterday was walking over Jordan

These are the things that keep him sane
These are the things that aggravate
Some fall asleep and don't awake
Some failing all the undertakes
Some try real hard but it's too late
Some get their wings immaculate
He can't let go, his arms will break
These are the things that aggravate
These are the things that keep him sane
These are the things that aggravate
These are the things that keep him sane
These are the things that aggravate
